PROCESS HINGED DOOR

AceDoors extensive range of process doors provide for ease of access while minimising energy loss and any risk of contamination. All process doors are manufactured with double-leaf gaskets to ensure complete sealing. Almost every possible hygiene condition is catered for with a wide range of materials including fibre glass doors.

Durability is vital to any process doors. Because AceDoors use long lasting components, such as a PVC double seal gasket on the frame and threshold of our process doors, many years of reliable service are assured.

Options include:

- Vision panels
- Powder coating
- Anodising
- Automatic operation
- Kick plates
- Specialised hardware
- Bomber type hinge
- Electric locksets or activation

AceDoors reserves the right to make improvements or change specifications to the above, with prior notification and acceptance of the customer.
